LOCAL - STATE NEWS

◆ MONROE OFFICIAL MURDERED

The TBI and the State Bomb and Arson Division are investigating the death of Monroe County Election Chairman Jim Miller, whose body was found in the trunk of a burned vehicle near Sweetwater Saturday night. Miller was the president of Jim Miller Excavating Company. Miller was 60. He had worked Saturday morning at the Election Commission Office because of early voting. He left around 12:30 p.m. and called his wife to say he was on his way home. However, he never arrived at home. No official cause of death has been released, but several sources say Miller had been shot.

◆ SHOP TAX FREE AUG. 6-8

The 5th annual Sales Tax Holiday in Tennessee is scheduled for Friday, August 6, and continuing through Sunday, August 8. During those three days, you can save nearly 10% on tax-free clothing, school and art supplies, and computer purchases. No state or local sales tax will be charged on select clothing with a price of $100 or less per item, school and art supplies with a price of $100 or less per item, and computers with a price of $1,500 or less. Eligible computer items are CPU's and other computer items if they are part of a bundled computer package. iPad's are eligible for tax exemption, but video games and consoles are not.

NATIONAL-WORLD NEWS

◆ BP's broken well in the Gulf of Mexico was leaking oil and gas again Monday for the first time since the company capped it last week, but the Obama administration's spill chief said it was no cause for alarm. The stopper was left in place for now.

◆ President Obama took aim at Republican lawmakers on Monday, accusing them of holding the public hostage to Washington politics by blocking extended unemployment benefits for millions of out of work Americans. Meanwhile, Republicans shot back and said they would vote for the benefits if they were paid with Obama's stimulus funds and not added onto the nation's 13 Trillion Dollar Debt.

◆ Trading on the New York stock exchange was erratic Monday after another bad report on housing. The National Association of Homebuilders said its confidence index sank to 14, its lowest level since March 2009. The Dow Jones Industrials Average closed at 10,154.43; up 56.53 points.

◆ One day, your flu shot may come in the form of a Band-Aid with tiny needles so small you can't even feel them. Researchers say the business side of the patch feels like fine sandpaper. The little needles barely penetrate the skin before they dissolve and release vaccine.

TENNESSEAN IS MARBLE KING

A Tennessee youngster is the national 2010 King of Marbles. Corey Goolsby (shown below), 14, of Hanging Limb in Overton County won the boys national championship at the 87th Annual National Marbles Tournament held recently in Wildwood, New Jersey. First prize includes a $2,000 college scholarship and a trip back to Wildwood next year to be inducted into the National Marbles Hall of Fame. Ironically, Corey found himself in the finals against his cousin, 13-year-old Austin Wright, who won the title of boy's National Runner-Up. In the girl's division, 9-year-old Logan Mayberry of Celina in Clay County finished third in the nation. Clay and Overton counties have a strong marbles program, which is supported by Standing Stone State Park. Both counties have annual marbles tournaments. The tournament finals are played at the state park every year.

TODAY IN HISTORY - JULY 20
1859 - American baseball fans had to pay an admission fee for the first time. Fifteen-thousand people paid 50¢ to see Brooklyn play New York.
1919 - Sir Edmund Hillary, the first man to conquer Mount Everest, was born in New Zealand.
1942 - Country singer T.G. Sheppard was born. One of his biggest hits was "Finally."
1944 - A time bomb planted by German generals exploded in Nazi leader Adolf Hitler's headquarters. In revenge, Hitler ordered nearly 5,000 people executed.
1969 - Space history was made as two U.S. astronauts landed the lunar module "Eagle" on the moon's surface. Astronaut Neil Armstrong became the first man to set foot on the moon. His first words were: "That's one small step for a man...one giant leap for mankind."
