◆ ATHENS CITY COUNCIL MEETS

A new member of the Athens City Council took his seat at last night's monthly meeting. Newly elected member Chuck Burris was sworn-in after winning an open seat in November 6th's election. Returning council member Ann Scott Davis was also sworn-in after winning on November 6th. Mayor Hal Buttram was re-nominated and re-elected Mayor of the City of Athens. Current Vice-Mayor Bo Perkinson nominated Ann Scott Davis to be Vice-Mayor and she was elected to that position. In other business, the City of Athens was recognized by the state for its superlative financial statements for the 20th year in a row.

◆ Egyptian President Mohammed Morsi, predicts that airstrikes will end soon and Israel's prime minister, Benjamin Netanyahu, stated that his country would be a willing partner to a cease-fire with the Islamic militant group Hamas.

◆ Cell phone video just released by prosecutors offers a chilling view into the mind of Jared Cano, a Florida teenager who in 2011 was charged with plotting to kill teachers and students with bombs at his high school, Freedom High School, in Tampa.

◆ Allen West, a Republican Congressman from Florida has conceded to Democratic challenger Patrick Murphy. The results showed West about 2,000 votes short of Murphy in Florida's 18th Congressional District but he was unable to persuade local officials to grant him a full recount. He has no plans to take further action to contest the outcome of the election.

◆ Ben Bernanke, Federal Reserve Chairman, is urging Congress and the Obama administration to strike a budget deal to avert tax increases and spending cuts that could trigger a recession next year. If there is no deal, the measures known as the "fiscal cliff" will take effect in January.

◆ A Texas man thought he was being charitable but ended up being a little too generous by giving a pair of shoes to Goodwill that contained 33 $100 bills. The money was eventually returned when his wife went back to the store to explain that the shoe was actually her piggy bank.

Explosives Laden Truck Wrecks

A large truck hauling ammonium nitrate, blasting caps, and gel, wrecked Monday on Hwy 39 East near the Nonaburg Church. The truck was driven by Ronald Morse of LaFollette, TN and had just made a delivery to the nearby rock quarry. Morse was slightly injured and refused any medical treatment. The Englewood and Etowah Rural FD's responded to the scene as well as the McMinn County HazMat team. Photo by Jay Thomson.
