NATIONAL & WORLD NEWS

- ◆ Before they elect the next Pope, Cardinals want to talk to Vatican managers about allegations of corruption and cronyism within the top levels of the Catholic Church. Last year, documents stolen by the pope's butler from Pope Benedict's desk were published. These documents exposed the petty infighting, corruption, nepotism and cronyism in the highest echelons of the Catholic Church. The butler was convicted of stealing the papers and leaking them to a journalist, and he eventually received a papal pardon.
- ◆ Casey Anthony appeared in public on Monday for the first time since she was acquitted of murder, claiming that she doesn't have a job or a car, lives with friends and relies on unsolicited gift cards and cash to get by. In July, 2011 Anthony, age 26, was acquitted of murder in the death of her 2-year-old daughter, Caylee.
- ◆ Thousands of sinkholes erupt in Florida each year and most are small, few affect homes, and even fewer cause deaths, but the sinkhole in the Tampa suburb of Seffner, that claimed the life of Jeff Bush, 37, however, was different. It has been called a freak geological incident and crews are still were working to remove enough of the home to see more clearly inside the giant hole. Rescue members say it is doubtful that Bush's body will ever be recovered.
