State & Local News

◆ CAN YOU IDENTIFY THIS MAN?

Athens police are asking the public for help in identifying the man in the photo. He's suspected of robbing the Jiffy on Congress Parkway on Monday night and the Jiffy on South White Street last Saturday night. Call the Athens Police Department at 423-744-2730 if you have any information about the subject in the photo.

◆ ATHENS 4th FIREWORKS SHOW UPDATE

Athens Parks Director Austin Fesmire tells the MORNING FAX that as of 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, several more donors are in the process of making a commitment to help fund the balance of the $18,000 needed to fund this year's Fourth of July Fireworks Show. The deadline is on Friday. Fesmire said that he hopes a couple of more details will be finalized this morning and if so, the City will hopefully be able to issue a press release early this afternoon announcing that the fireworks show will be held.

World & National News

◆ Ten-year-old Sarah Murnaghan got a double-lung transplant Wednesday after a match with an adult donor was made. Her efforts to qualify for an organ donation drew public debate over how organs are allocated. Murnaghan suffers from severe cystic fibrosis. The family is keeping in mind that someone had to lose a family member, and they're very aware of that and very appreciative.

◆ Edward Snowden, who is responsible for revealing secrets about the National Security Agency, is receiving support from 2 men who previously revealed secrets about the NSA after September 11th. Thomas Drake and Mark Klein have come forward to express support for Snowden's revelations. Klein, leaked a story to The New York Times and the Los Angeles Times involving a special project that would stream data to the NSA. Drake leaked non-classified details of the agency's wasteful spending practices to a reporter from the Baltimore Sun.

◆ Former South African President Nelson Mandela spent his fifth straight day in a Pretoria hospital where he began responding better to treatment. Mandela, who is 94, was hospitalized with a recurring lung infection last Saturday.
