◆ WOMEN AT THE WELL: CHANGING LIVES

The before and after pictures give a vivid example of a changed life. Sharon Earl was sitting in a jail cell when she realized she was in bondage to anger, abusive relationships, and heroin use. She says at that moment, God spoke to her from His Word for the first time in her life. A month later, she became a client at Women at the Well. While there, God changed her life and His love broke down the walls she had built up around her heart. Now, she has graduated and is attending Emerging Leaders College in Jesup, Georgia. She plans to use her gift of drama and music to minister hope to others.

NATIONAL & WORLD NEWS

- ◆ A head-on collision of two trains in western Switzerland late Monday resulted in the injury of at least 44 people, four seriously. The crash happened shortly before 7 p.m. southwest of the capital, Bern.
- ◆ The gunman who held up a luxury Cannes hotel in France escaped with $136 million dollars worth of diamonds, more than twice the initial estimated worth of loot.
- ◆ Hudson's Bay Co., the Canadian parent of upscale retailer Lord & Taylor, is purchasing Saks Inc for about $2.4 billion in a deal that will bring luxury to more North American locales.
- ◆ The FBI arrested 150 people across the United States on charges of holding children against their will for prostitution. This was the largest-ever operation against child sex-trafficking.
- ◆ Thanks to the generosity of strangers, Jen Bulik, a 35-year-old who recently was diagnosed with terminal cancer, got the wedding of her dreams over the weekend in San Jose, California. More than 40 local vendors donated their services for the ceremony. Bulik and her boyfriend, Jeff Lang, were married in a park near her parents' home, surrounded by friends, family and a New Orleans brass band. In December, Bulik was diagnosed with stage 4 lung cancer.
