State & Local News

◆ BEBB WILL NOT SEEK RE-ELECTION

Steve Bebb, District Attorney General for the 10th Judicial District, says he will not run for re-election. Bebb is finishing out an 8-year term after serving previously as Criminal Court Judge. He says when he announced for DA in 2006, he said he was running for one term. Bebb says he always keeps his word. Bebb has come under fire during the past year after a series of newspaper articles in the Chattanooga Times Free Press reported allegations including misconduct, misuse of taxpayer money, and ineptness. Committees in both the state House and the Senate are looking into the TBI's report on its investigation into those allegations against Bebb.

◆ ANDERSON PLEADS GUILTY, GETS PROBATION

Former McMinn County Property Assessor Jerry Anderson has pleaded guilty to a charge of official misconduct and has been sentenced to one year of supervised probation. He also has to pay $250 restitution to the McMinn Co. Highway Department. Two charges of theft were dismissed. The charges involved the use of county gasoline to fill up his personal vehicle for non-official business. Anderson resigned as property assessor last month.

National & International News

◆ Former Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat, may have been poisoned by a radioactive substance according to evidence discovered by Swiss scientists. In 2004, Arafat died under mysterious circumstances at a French military hospital one month after falling ill at his Israeli-besieged West Bank compound.

◆ Scientists believe that meteors about the size of the one that streaked through the sky at 42,000 mph and burst over Russia in February are probably four to five times more likely to hit the planet than scientists previously believed. The meteor was only 62 feet across but exploded with the force of about 40 Hiroshima-type atom bombs. Its shock wave shattered thousands of windows, and its flash temporarily blinded 70 people. More than 1,600 people were injured.

◆ Dish Network, the parent company of Blockbuster DVD Rental Company, has announced that it is closing all of its corporate stores and ending their mail-order DVD business. Only a handful of franchise stores will remain open. The Blockbuster store here in Athens will be affected by the announcement. The Athens store's last day of business will be this Saturday, November 9th. Between 7 and 10 employees will be losing their jobs.
