NATIONAL AND WORLD NEWS

- ◆ Insurance cancellations are fueling a political backlash against President Obama and Democrats supporting his health care overhaul. The president apologized Thursday for the turmoil some consumers are going through.
- ◆ A gigantic typhoon has slammed into the Philippines. Typhoon Haiyan has sustained gusts up to 235-mile-per-hour. Jeff Masters, a former hurricane meteorologist said the storm had been poised to be the strongest tropical cyclone ever recorded at landfall, and he warned of catastrophic damage.
- ◆ The Food and Drug Administration is getting rid of what's left of heart-clogging trans fats. Trans fats were once a staple of the American diet, plentiful in baked goods, microwave popcorn, and fried foods. The FDA announcement will require the food industry to phase them out, claiming artificial trans fats threaten public health.
- ◆ The ruthless Taliban commander, Mullah Fazlullah, who was behind the attack on teenage activist Malala Yousafzai has been chosen as the leader of the Pakistani Taliban, nearly a week after a U.S. drone strike killed the previous chief.
- ◆ The Senate on Thursday approved legislation that would bar workplace discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity. The measure is expected to be defeated in the House.
