WORLD & NATIONAL NEWS

◆ No new pings have been heard since last Tuesday in the hunt for the missing Malaysia Airlines jet, meaning the batteries in the black boxes may have died.

◆ The National Transportation Safety Board is seeking more witnesses to last Thursday's fiery wreck between a FedEx truck and a bus. Two motorists said the truck's cab was on fire when it crossed the median. There were no signs the truck driver tried to brake.

◆ There will be a total lunar eclipse Tuesday that will turn the moon a reddish orange. It's called a blood moon, one of four this year. The total eclipse begins at 3:07 a.m. tomorrow.

◆ COMMUNITY NEWS YOU CAN USE:

✓ Candidates for the federal, state, and local elections have been invited to take part in a meet and greet gathering tonight at 6:30 p.m. at the Englewood Elementary School Cafeteria. A baked goods auction will be held, with the proceeds going to support the projects of the Englewood Lions Club. Everyone is invited to get to know the candidates and support the Lions Club.

✓ The Etowah Area Chamber of Commerce's "Breakfast Before Hours" will be held tomorrow from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m., hosted by CASA Corridor of East Tennessee, 111 Church Street, Athens.

They Found the Prize Eggs!

The annual City of Athens Egg Hunt sponsored by the Athens Parks and Recreation Department was held this past Saturday at the Athens Regional Park. More than 10,000 eggs were placed on the park grounds. River Valley Ag Credit donated a new I-Pad-Mini as a prize, and Plaza Electronics provided a 32-inch flat screen TV. The winners are shown in the photos. River Valley Ag Credit's Joanne Arnett is shown with Ashton (last name not provided), who found the I-Pad.

Mike Murphy with Plaza Electronics is shown with Luis Franco, who found the flat screen TV prize egg.
