Local & Area News

◆ "W" IS COMING TO ATHENS

Former President George W. Bush will be the featured speaker at the Athens Area Chamber of Commerce Annual Benefit Dinner next June. The announcement was made Saturday night at the conclusion of this year's banquet, which featured Bo Jackson, former college and pro football star. Jackson won the Heisman Trophy in 1985 while playing as a running back for Auburn. He also played pro ball with the Los Angeles Raiders. The photo from Bruce Hari shows Jackson on the stage, answering questions from program emcee Steve Hartline.

National & World News

◆ President Trump has arrived in Singapore for a historic summit with North Korean leader Kim Jong Un. The two men are scheduled to meet at 9 p.m. Eastern Time on Tuesday.

◆ Florida officials have found the body of a missing woman who had been attacked by an alligator at Silver Lakes Rotary Nature Park in Davie, Florida.

SWIFT PILOTS RETURN TO McMINN AIRPORT
 Some 30 single-engine Swift airplanes, built in the 1940's, returned to McMinn County Airport this past weekend for their annual Swift Convention. Several of the small planes are shown parked in front of the new Swift Museum and hangar.

♦ VEHICLE BURNS ON HIGHWAY 305

A vehicle was struck by a hit-and-run driver and then burst into flames Friday evening on Highway 305 in front of the Subway. (Photo by Todd Clower)

Correction

In last Friday's Morning Fax we featured a photo of Junior McCowan receiving a plaque from Athens Police Chief Cliff Couch. Our story said McCowan was being recognized because he was the first African-American police officer in Athens. That is incorrect. Actually, he was the second black officer. The first was Elbert Lane.
