Starr Regional New Cath Lab

Starr Regional Medical Center (SRMC) recently had an open house and ribbon cutting for their new cardiac catheterization (cath) lab in Athens. SRMC is an accredited Chest Pain Center and has been working diligently to improve the cardiac services offered within the community. The providers and technology within the cardiac cath lab will diagnose and provide treatment for heart blockages and other cardiac conditions without a commute. Starr Regional Medical Center will be the only facility within 30 miles of its campuses to offer these services. This will allow more patients the ability to receive this important care closer to home. Photo submitted by Morning Fax Staff Member, Stephanie Devine.

Community News You Can Use

- ✓ The City of Athens Public Works Department announces that College Street from Jackson Street to Long Street will be closed on Thursday, April 27th from 8 am to 8:30 pm.
