Meigs County Teen Charged with First-Degree Murder in Georgetown Shooting

A 15-year-old Meigs County girl is facing a charge of first-degree murder following the shooting death of a man early Tuesday morning in the Georgetown area.

District Attorney General Russell Johnson confirmed that a juvenile delinquent petition has been filed against the teen in connection with the fatal shooting of 35-year-old Richard High. High was killed by a single gunshot wound at a residence on Gunstocker Road during the early morning hours of June 10.

The name of the juvenile has not been released due to her age. A detention hearing was held Thursday, June 12, in Meigs County Juvenile Court.

General Johnson stated the case will proceed in juvenile court for now. No decision has been made regarding whether the case will be transferred to adult court. "As in these types of cases, we expect that there will be court-ordered evaluations of the juvenile given the seriousness and nature of the crime and the age of the juvenile," he said.

The incident occurred at 245 Gunstocker Road. The property owner told authorities he rents one unit of the duplex to a father and two children and was unaware of any issues until law enforcement arrived around 5:00 a.m. Tuesday.

The Meigs County Sheriff's Office and the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation are continuing the homicide investigation. No additional details have been released. Source: Local 3 News

Peoples Bank Expands Financial Education Efforts Across East Tennessee

Peoples Bank of East Tennessee (PBET) is continuing its commitment to empowering individuals and strengthening communities through its expanding Financial Education Program. In observance of National Financial Literacy Month and Tennessee Financial Literacy Week, PBET team members visited schools and organizations across East Tennessee during April and May, offering engaging lessons designed to build strong financial foundations.

In Vonore, PBET staff members visited Vonore Middle School to lead students in Bank Bingo and teach budgeting basics. In Sweetwater, 11 classes at Brown Intermediate participated in a fun and informative round of Bank Bingo, focusing on saving and money management. At Copper Basin Elementary, representatives from the Ducktown and McCaysville branches read to first graders about the importance of saving. At Maryville Junior High, staff from the Maryville branch worked with students on setting money goals and practicing healthy financial habits. In Athens, team members visited McMinn County's Senior-TN Success Class to cover real-world money topics with high school seniors. In Tellico Plains, PBET brought Money Bingo to the Boys & Girls Club of Ocoee – Rural Vale Unit, combining fun with financial education.

PBET also reached adults in the community through a series of educational events. In Madisonville, a Lunch & Learn focused on financial fraud and scam prevention provided attendees with tools to protect their finances. PBET also partnered with the Monroe County Chamber of Commerce to deliver a cybersecurity session, and a similar fraud prevention talk was hosted at Rocky Springs Baptist Church.

These efforts reflect PBET's broader mission to make financial literacy a year-round priority. The bank is committed to continuing the Financial Education Program as an ongoing resource for schools, families, and communities, with regular outreach events, classroom visits, and lessons designed to help people of all ages make informed financial decisions.
